Dedicated

. . . Proudly to W-L graduates who are serving their country.

It is fitting that, in 1942, we remember those who, upon graduation, have joined the armed services, some of whom have already distinguished themselves in battle.

We look up to these.

There are those who are, literally, the men behind the men behind the guns—the mechanics, office workers, and engineers, so necessary to the defense of our democracy.

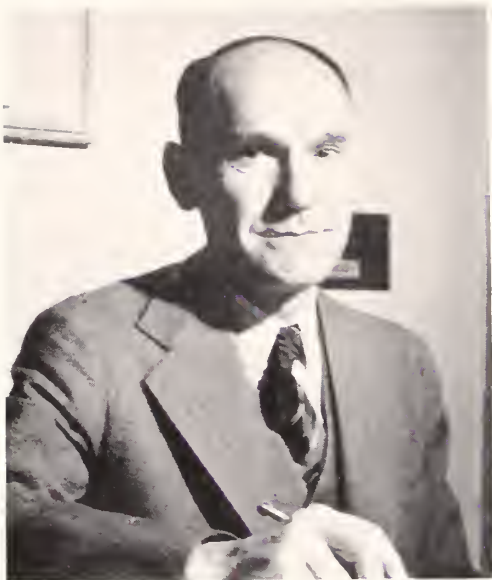

We are also proud of the many women, Washington-Lee alumnae, who are serving in wartime capacities or as the inspiration of those more actively engaged.

May we of the class of '42 add to the list of patriotic services being so nobly rendered to our country by graduates of Washington-Lee High School.

Administration

The Superintendent

Mr. Fletcher Kemp

Board of Education

Left to right: Mr. John M. Stewart, Reverend W. F. Wolf, Mr. Arthur E. Wilson, Mrs. Lucy G. Bussey, Mr. Jackson W. Ross

Our Principal

Mr. Claude M. Richmond

To the Class of 1942:

As the day for your graduation approaches I cannot help but think about the new problems you will face—just twenty some years ago our world was beset with dark clouds just as it is today. Boys and girls of that other war period lived to see sunshine and peace. Again the world is burdened with a war more extensive and destructive than the first, but we Americans have an undying faith in our Democracy and sincerely believe that we shall see a greater sunshine of more lasting peace.

Our armed forces and those producing the tools and materials of war are exerting their power to bring about peace for the world. Your task, though unpublicized, will be just as strenuous—you must live and work to make peace a reality not something that is just a building period for another year. No one can give the exact directions that you must follow to achieve such a mighty goal, but I am sure that you and all the rest of us can be helped and guided by the philosophy of Thomas A. Kempis who long ago wrote, "First keep thyself in peace then shall thou be able to make peace among others."

In a school the size of ours the Principal has just begun to know you and to enjoy you more fully when it is time to say goodbye. It is my hope that you will have an abundance of good health, worthwhile ambitions, and unfailing determination.

Sincerely,

Claude M. Richmond

We look back to some of our former leaders

The members of the class of '42 are graduating from W-L at a time when the future is uncertain and decisions are hard to make. Therefore, it is rather comforting to look back to some of our alumni who have made good in the game of life. This alumni page is the result of a survey made by the staff of the former Senior Class Presidents and the Editors-in-Chief of the BLUE AND GRAY.

The picture above shows Dan Johnson and Lois Smith after they presented gifts to the school from the Class of '41.

LOIS SMITH, editor of the 1941 BLUE AND GRAY, is a freshman at the George Washington University to which she won a scholarship.

DAN JOHNSON, President of the class of '41, is already a display man hired by the New York office of the J. C. Penney Company. It is his hope that the class of '42 will start its new step in the ladder of life with a bang.

AUNE KANGAS, 1940 Editor, is also attending George Washington University. It is her hope that W-Lites take advantage of every spare moment.

PAUL JOHNSON, who is now a member of the anti-aircraft defense in the Northwest, led the class of 1941. He, as a radio sergeant, is in charge of radio communications for his unit.

DORA ODDSSON, Editor of the 1939 BLUE AND GRAY, who is now Mrs. Richard Lunsford, attended George Washington University for a year after her graduation from W-L in 1939.

BOB HOWELL, class of '39's President, is now employed by the Board of Economic Warfare. He feels that the Golden Rule is the best and only one to follow in this world of chaos.

PAT JOHNS, editor of the 1938 annual, is a senior at Madison College. She advises high school students to get all the education possible.

JACK HIGHTOWER, who was President of the class of '38, attended Wilson Teachers College. He was employed in the Bureau of Engraving, and studied accountancy at night. He was inducted into the Army on February 19th. He says, "For an intelligent peace, we must be an educated people."

SHIRLEY LOUISE SMITH, who was head of the 1937 BLUE AND GRAY, is now teaching English at Claude Swanson Junior High School. She was graduated from Duke University.

GUY BLOOMINGBURG, who was head of the 1937 class, attended the University of Virginia and George Washington University. Now married, he is employed by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

JOSEPH CARR, President of the Class of '36, has been in the Army since May, 1941. He attended V.P.I. after graduating from W-L.

FRANKLYN PAYNE, who was President of the 1935 class, graduated from the George Washington University, and is now the private secretary of Dean Doyle of Columbian College. Although her name remains unchanged, she is now Mrs. Kirby B. Payne.

ELSIE MITCHELL, who headed the 1934 Annual, is now teaching eighth grade English at Thomas Jefferson Junior High School. She graduated from Westhampton College in 1938, and is now attending George Washington University.

JOHN KAMINSKY, President of the class of '34, is now at Luke Field, Arizona, and hopes to become an Aviation Cadet. He suggests that this slogan, though a national one, should be a good one for the Senior Class:

K N
E I
F Y
 E F
 M

ROBERT LEE SIMPSON, of the class of '33 is living in Norfolk, where he is associated with an admiralty law firm. He attended William and Mary College, and was admitted to the Virginia bar in 1939. Robert is married and has a son.

HENRI "BUDDY" COE, editor of the '32 BLUE AND GRAY, is now a proud father to his two-year-old, Steve. He is employed by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey as a map draftsman.

BETSY CANNON, Editor of 1931 BLUE AND GRAY, graduated from Westhampton College and is now employed in the office of Government Reports, although she says that she has not gone far toward setting the world on fire. However, we feel that her lawyer husband and her three lovely babies make up for any failure of hitting the front page of the newspapers.

ALLAN WILLIS, President of the 1931 class attended the University of Virginia and has since been employed in the post office in Arlington. He is married and has a son.

DOROTHY LEIGHTY

Editor of the 1930 annual died in 1940.

PAUL HEINS, President of the class of '30 attended the University of Virginia and Stanford University. He is working in the Soils Section of the Division of Tests of the U. S. Public Roads Administration. He says to the Seniors, "Aim for the top."

JEANNE ROSE, who was the BLUE AND GRAY editor in 1929, graduated from William and Mary College. She is now working at the Folger Shakespeare Library in Washington.

GLENN HALL, President of the 1929 class, attended law school at Southeastern University and was admitted to the District of Columbia bar. He is now with the Board of Economic Warfare.

ALBERT TILLSON, President of the Class of '28, attended George Washington University, and the College of Wooster. He received the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Maryland. He is employed as a Junior Botanist at the U. S. Plant Introduction Garden, Glenn Dale, Maryland.

F. PARKES FIELDING, the first Senior class President at W-L, attended Randolph-Macon College, from which he graduated Cum Laude. He is an agent for the Life and Casualty Insurance Company of Tennessee, and hopes to be commissioned in the Navy soon. He states that, "Happiness comes from positive living. Your regrets will be for what you have not done, for the chances you did not take."

To America

America!

The hope of teeming millions to be free,
To them the land of opportunity;
The heritage of many millions more,
Theirs to defend and to protect and save.

America is modern industry,
Bleak Pittsburgh, roaring furnaces, coke, steel,
Grimy factories belching thick black smoke,
Production's giant, ponderous, mighty, bold.

America is fertile yielding soil,
It's Kansas with its fields of golden wheat,
An undulating sea before the wind
Engulfing all in rolling laughing waves.

America is broad Dakota's plains
Spreading westward to the setting sun;
The granite Rockies' sheer forbidding walls
Unconquered as Americans themselves.

America is the active bristling city
Never halting, boisterous, sullen, gruff,
It is all these, yea even more—much more,
It is the steadfast spirit of a people.

America indomitable unflinching,
E'er faithful to the cause of liberty
Devotion of a people never swerving
From the path set down by their ideals.

America is work, blood, sweat, and tears,
Love, happiness, and strength; desire for these,
Grief, sorrow for the things that might have been,
Faith, hope for those things which are yet to come.

She's great because her people are so strong,
She's strong because her people are so weak
And know they're weak but push ahead and work
Together, all for one, a common goal.

Oh! for the guiding spirit of the past
To aid our erring hand thru troubled times,
The spirit of the pioneer, not gone
But slumbering, will arise again anon.

That spirit will arise to face the task
As in the past it rose to face those tasks;
Its purpose then to make a nation broad,
Its purpose now to make a nation wise.

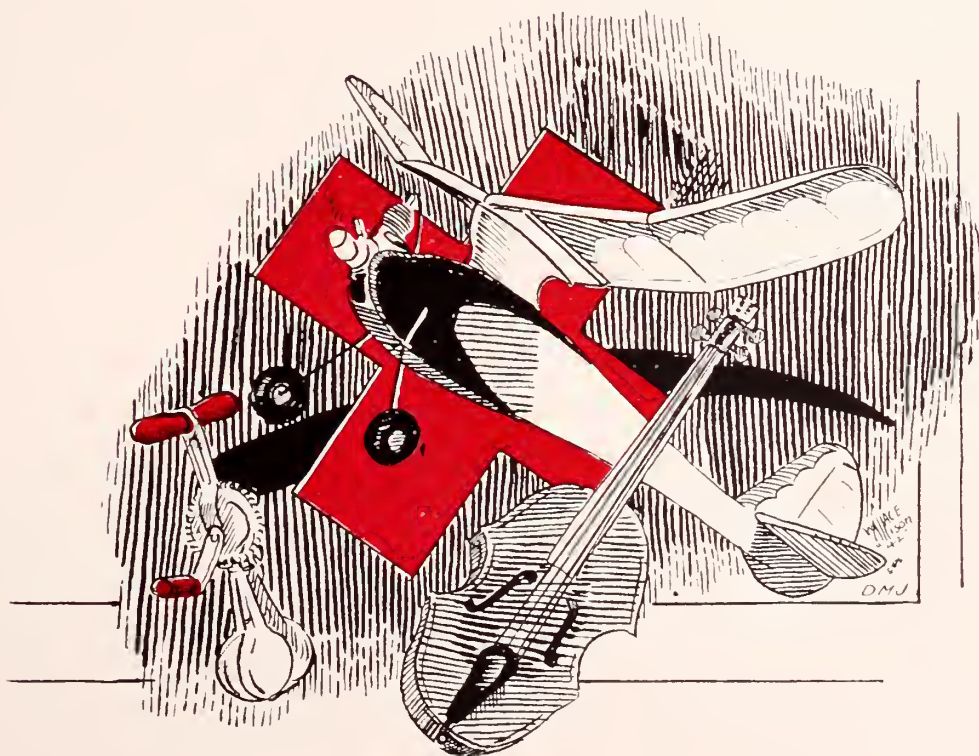

America, what magic in that name,
To draw from men such strength and such devotion
As it has drawn from them in yesteryear,
And as it will continue yet to draw.

Knock on the tall bronze doors ye gods of doom;
America will answer unafraid
The fateful challenge what so e'er it be;
There is no task too great and none too small.

America the spirit of the free
The love and sorrow, happiness and strength
The work, blood, sweat, and tears, desire for these,
America, all these, she will be more.

The Washington-Lee Student Association consists of the student body, the Forum whose members are the homeroom presidents, and the council. The council is made up of the officers, who are elected by the student body, the Senior and Junior Class Presidents, the June Senior Class Vice-President, and one of the Sophomore Class Presidents.

One of the most important purposes of the Student Council is to foster cooperation between the students and the faculty. It also carries on projects that will benefit the entire school. One of the most noticeable services of the Student Government is the clean-up campaign, designed to keep the school grounds as attractive as possible.

The Student Council has given four dances this year, starting something new with a Spinster Ball. Movies have been shown during the activity periods for the students' entertainment. The Points System started last year has been put into working order this year, and affects every student. When the public address system was installed, the Student Council took the lead in organizing the payments for it, pledging a large sum. The success of the 1942 Student Association was made possible only with the cooperation of the student body.

Kalagethos

MISS SALLY LOVING, Sponsor

The W-L Chapter of the National Honor Society was established in 1937. Kalagethos, which means striving for beauty, nobility of character, and leadership, was adopted as its name. Membership in the Society, open to a limited number of eleven-B's and Seniors, represents the highest honor obtainable in the school because it recognizes all phases of high school life. Eligibility in Kalagethos which is an open organization, depends on character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The officers of the first semester were: Donald Reid—President, Beth Glover—Vice-President, Eleanor Krieger—Secretary, and Norma Joy—Treasurer. Those elected for the second semester were: J. K. Shelton—President, Orville Judd—Vice-President, Margaret Lynn—Secretary, and Pat Pumphrey—Treasurer.

Kalagethos is a service organization, and has been functioning in that capacity this year by furthering the projects of former years, and by starting new ones. Because it is difficult for new students to be recognized in a large school, the Honor Society played host to approximately one hundred persons, including the new students, the class officers, and a few members of the faculty, at a get-acquainted party. The society sold Christmas cards again this year. The traditional party for the graduate members during the Christmas holidays was the largest attended yet.

The sale of defense stamps in the school was backed wholeheartedly by the Honor Society, special recognition being given to the most patriotic homeroom of each class. The installation of the public address system was aided financially by the Society. An afternoon dance was sponsored early in April. Each year's members look forward to the vocational guidance work which the group sponsors, to adding to the vocational library, and to the final event of the season—its annual picnic.

W-L Plays

"Music is the universal language of mankind"

No definite formula for developing an orchestra can be found. Too many individual elements are concerned to make a routine procedure possible . . . However, time for rehearsal is of extreme importance, and this year, for the first time in the history of the school, Washington-Lee's Orchestra has been given an hour for rehearsal in the regular school day. This has given opportunity for some study of fundamentals of music and for the playing of a few records to illustrate what is to be desired in orchestral tone, and section rehearsals. All this has proved very valuable to the members.

In addition to this boon, the orchestra has been able to purchase music of the level that other schools play, taken from the National Contest Bulletin. From the study of this music it is able to see how the W-L orchestra ranks with the national orchestral average, although they are not yet ready to compete.

Finally, the orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. Page this year, has had opportunities for showing its talents in public gatherings such as commencement and Parent-Teacher programs, Community Sings, student assemblies, and its own spring concert in the middle of May. The Mixed Glee Club assisted at the latter.

The orchestra has had a pleasant and interesting year, which included "jamming" while the director was out of the room, and making fun of his passion for Bach. 1943 is being faced by the musicians with high hopes of additional instrumentation and opportunity for development.

... to create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian Character.

With this pledge as their inspiration, and with Mr. Jackson to guide them, the W-L Hi-Y members have completed a successful year in every sense of the word. The membership reached its maximum number of forty after the induction of new members in the fall. The sixteen new members were suitably initiated during the informal initiation, then were given an idea of their responsibilities at the formal induction.

The activities of the Hi-Y this year included several new ventures. The student body was informed of the history, purpose and activities of the club at an assembly in March. The boys collected papers for the Red Cross drive. The annual collection of toys for the less fortunate inhabitants of Arlington was sponsored again by the club. In February a dance was held for the members. Each year an annual Father and Sons banquet is held. We understand that one of the hidden aims of the Club was to make the after dinner speeches enjoyable. The year's activities were fittingly climaxed by the induction of new members, bringing with them the hope of even a better year to come.

Delta Alpha Pi

(COMMERCIAL CLUB)

Delta Alpha Pi was organized this year as a club for the advancement and benefit of commercial students of Washington-Lee High School. The name was selected because of its significance and serves as a true challenge to its members—Delta meaning clever and skillful, Alpha excellence and fitness, and Pi faithful, loyal, and trusty.

The purpose of the club is to give the members greater experience in secretarial work, to further develop their skill in business subjects, to develop and improve their personality by additional social activities and contacts, and to increase the working efficiency of its members by dictation classes and lectures. The membership consists of students in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades who have had or are taking shorthand and typing and whose average in commercial work is at least a "C."

The activities of the club have been varied, interesting, and beneficial. At the football game between Washington-Lee and McKee High School of New York hot dogs were sold. With the proceeds of this sale two timing clocks were bought for the typing rooms. The members of the club found the real meaning of Christmas in playing Santa Claus to a needy family in the community by donating and fixing clothes and toys. At the beginning of the year a party was given for the club members so that they could become better acquainted. This was held in the cafeteria and there were refreshments, dancing and games. This was followed later in the year by a St. Patrick's Day party which was a pleasant surprise when the girls came to club that day.

The club was fortunate in having several interesting speakers during the year. Among them was a court reporter who told of the work required of a reporter, two representatives from a department store who talked on the proper dress for a business office, and a buyer from another Washington store who discussed the work of a buyer.

The Commercial club has taken its place in the activities of Washington-Lee and it is the hope of its charter members and sponsors that it will continue to serve in the fine way it has functioned this year.

With 1942 came added responsibilities for the three active Red Cross Clubs at Washington-Lee. The Junior Red Cross Club is sponsored by Miss Rucker, the other two being sponsored by Mrs. Moore.

In addition to the new projects, the several clubs continued to make holiday favors for the veterans at Mt. Alto Hospital. These favors are different each year, and seem to be appreciated by the men. The efforts of the Red Cross Club members around Christmas time are particularly commendable. The club which meets after school together with the Home Economics department has made cakes, cookies, or candy for the veterans several times.

The club's activities are varied enough to be interesting to all types of students. The clubs did the clerical work behind the scenes of the two Red Cross drives, one more than in former years. Homeroom competition greatly stimulated the drives. The members of the clubs have been knitting and sewing a great deal. The Junior Red Cross Club sponsored an afternoon dance. Another new project undertaken this year was collecting used stamps. These were sent to England where the dye from the stamps was extracted and used again. The money received from these stamps was used to help the children in a British Hospital.

Inter-American Club

"Better is a neighbor that is near than a brother far off."

The purpose of the Inter-American Club, which is sponsored by Miss Peed, is to increase knowledge of and friendship with the Latin American countries. To further this end the members have varied types of programs, including informal discussions and debates. One of the most interesting debates was entitled "Resolved: That Mexico is more democratic than the United States." The music enjoyed by the Latins has been the feature attraction of several meetings. The club has been active for several years, and was partly responsible for the establishment of a course in Latin American history.

John Lundquist was president of the club the first semester, but was unable to continue in this capacity for the remainder of the year. Lala Joan Curry, his vice-president, carried on the splendid work John had started.

The members' interests do not wane after the club period is over. They attended the Inter-American Student Conference at George Washington University. In addition to this activity, many of the students participated in the Pan American Union essay contest entitled "Inter-American Cooperation."

In former years the club has ended its activities of the year with a dinner at a Spanish restaurant. This year's club plans to enjoy this same fitting climax to a successful year.

The Literary Society was started during the 1939-1940 season by a group of pupils who felt the need of an out-of-class organization which would provide an outlet for their literary efforts. Miss L. McNeill and Mr. Lewter were the co-sponsors until Mr. Webb took Miss McNeill's place in 1942. This year the group has tried to accomplish its purpose by centralizing the literary efforts of the school and by increasing the literary abilities of its members.

Under the leadership of its two presidents, John Lohr and Don Kearney, helpful programs were planned. The members were in charge of an assembly in March, the purpose of which was to create interest among the student body in the contests in public speaking, reading, poetry reading, and spelling. The winners of these contests competed with the best from surrounding schools. The final victors competed in the Virginia Literary League contests in Charlottesville.

Many changes have occurred in the Cadet Corps during 1941-1942. In September the corps was rapidly and efficiently organized under the direction of Captain Harrison B. Beavers.

The Corps was augmented this year, now containing four companies and a platoon for members of the Senior Class. The call to arms in the nation has had a great effect on the Corps, it seeming to be the logical patriotic duty to join the Washington-Lee Cadets. Another drawing card, so to speak, is the fundamental training received which will no doubt aid those who will be called to help defend our country. Extended order drills and battle formation have been stressed with good results throughout the year.

The annual competitive drill between the companies was held in December. Captain Riely led Company B to victory. In February the exhibition company was formed. Captain Colby, ably assisted by Lieutenants Smith and Oksanen, led the company into the annual competitive drills with George Washington High School and Randolph-Macon Military Academy.

The W-L Band, whose members appreciate the untiring efforts of Mr. Yassel, its founder, has gone forward each year. This year has been no exception. Perhaps the most important change in the band has been in its military status. It has been made a separate battalion of the Cadet Corps, the commanding officer being given the rank of Major.

Under the leadership of Major Charles Collins, the band attempted its first social event. A St. Patrick's Day Dance under its sponsorship was enjoyed by many students. Charles Freeman and Betty Barnes won the jitterbug contest. The group felt very fortunate to have such a fine group of mothers and grandmothers who furnished the refreshments. The proceeds of the dance were used for new band music.

The Band is always ready to play for any worthy cause. This year it was on hand for the Mile of Dimes drive in Clarendon. On Navy Day the band played at the Warrenton High School. Stirring music was rendered by the organization at the Cadet Show. After playing our National Anthem, the show was inspirationally ended with Taps, complete with an echo.

The band is very proud of Mr. Kemp's interest in it. The members are anticipating the new music room, which the addition to W-L will have made possible by next year.

Sam Browne Club

MR. NORMAN LAFAYETTE, Sponsor

The Sam Browne Club, composed of the commissioned officers of the Cadet Corps, has had an eventful and successful year. The club was formally organized early in the fall, the officers being as follows: Reed Halsted, Commander; Elgin Kirby, Vice-Commander; Robert Brewer, Adjutant; Jack Colby, Finance Officer, and James Wall, Sergeant at Arms.

One of the outstanding achievements of the club this year was the drawing up of a constitution. The addition of a faculty representative to the club shattered the custom of former years. Mr. Lafayette, selected by the members, has filled this capacity and has proved his worth.

The first dance of the season, its annual Goodwill Dance, was sponsored by the club as was a second dance, the Harvest Ball, given in October. The Sam Browne Club's activities were climaxed on March seventh with the Regimental Ball. The W-L ballroom filled to capacity on that night, with the dancing to music furnished by Ray King, was proof of the student body's approval of the Sam Browne Club.

Second row: Lieutenant Eddie Smith, Lieutenant Ralph Longaker, Lieutenant Melvin Siegel, Captain Irvin Fox, Captain Quinter Burnett, Captain Bill Sharp, Captain Wilbert Miller, Lieutenant Robert Oksanen, Lieutenant Warren Van Pelt, Lieutenant Everett Craig.

Third row: Lieutenant Robert Vaughn, Lieutenant Albert Heitmuller, Lieutenant Bruce Brown, Lieutenant John Lawson, Lieutenant Elgin Kirby, Lieutenant James Wall, Lieutenant A. H. Leatherwood, Lieutenant Theodore Berkeley.

The ominous world we are living in has already made its mark upon the girls' Auxiliary. The seven platoons which make up the three companies are a far cry from the one platoon which was the beginning of the battalion in 1930. Company I was formed in 1930, Company K in 1933, and Company L in 1936. Major Williams has sponsored the Auxiliary since 1931.

Company competitions have created interest, to say the least, and have proved that the three companies rank high in ratings. In fact, the drill between Captain Borton's and Captain Joy's companies proved to be so close that it was necessary to give one the pleasure of drilling at the Cadet Show, and other the honor of drilling at Founder's Day. The competitive drills with Anastasia and George Washington, and the Army Day Parade are other events always anticipated by the girls.

The Sadie Williams Club was named for its sponsor, its members being the Commissioned officers of the Auxiliary.

FOOTBALL TEAM

Left to right, first row: Jack Curry, Steve Long, "Peanut" Mallon.
Second row: "Pop" Deming, Warren Kelly, Jack Evans, Robert Donnigan, Jim Sprinkle, James Wall, "Mose" Wilson, John Grinnell, Donald Reid, Melvin Winfield, Edward DeCelle, Ernest Gillenwaters.
Third row: Fred Donkers, "Buck" Newsom, Jack Harlan, Glenn Smith, Walter Warner, Paul Lukens, Donald Drukenmuller, Elwood Keyes, Maxwell Jones, Bennie Sherman, Leo Urbanski.
Fourth row: John Gardiner, Edwin Smith, Jack Fitzgerald, Jimmie Trice, Fred Rawlinson, Marvin Lyons, Mryon Gurber, Jerry Leister, Bobby Huff, Bill Sharp.

In spite of the changing personnel of the football picture, including coaches as well as players, W-L had an excellent football season. This was due in no small part to the new head coaches, Harry "Pop" Deming, the new backfield coach, Frank Kavalier ("Mr. K." for short) and the team captain, "Mose" Wilson.

The Little Generals accomplished several commendable feats. They set a new metropolitan record for the number of points scored in one game. Not wanting to rest on their laurels, the team broke that record in the next game played, which made the record score fifty-four points. W-L played a team from New York state for the first time in its history this year.

The team generally agreed that the hardest game was with Central. Oh, for that extra point! The most exciting game was the turkey day battle. Those who were forced to remain at home heard it on the radio. The first quarter ended with the rivals battling furiously, the score being seven to nothing in favor of G. W. The second quarter, though started with a bang, ended sadly for W-L rooters, the score nineteen to seven. The third quarter, with both teams refreshed, was fought to a draw. When the final quarter began, the W-L fans were almost afraid to watch. Suddenly the team began to click, and scored once before the majority of the people realized what was happening. To top off the last touchdown, the Little Generals scored one again just as the whistle blew ending the game.

This year's football season ended with a sigh of relief. W-L had retained the Old Oaken Bucket!

The scores of the games were as follows:

Gonzaga	0	W-L	19
St. John's	7	W-L	20
Western	0	W-L	7
National Training School	7	W-L	32
Central	7	W-L	6
Fredericksburg	0	W-L	54
McKee Vocational	0	W-L	54
George Washington	19	W-L	19

Basket!

Basketball hit an all-time high at W-L this year. With the guidance of Coach Clements, the team soared forward through its twenty-eight games in addition to the post-season scuffles. Under the leadership of Captains Courtney Owens and Maynard (T-Bone) Tiaht, Washington-Lee won eighteen games. "Bozie" Chew's band added to the air of excitement at the games.

Their district standing brought about the Little Generals' participation in the Star Tournament. The first night, March 5, they defeated Alexandria High School. Next the team beat Georgetown Prep, giving them the honor of playing in the finals. A pep rally was held the day of the game between Bethesda-Chevy Chase and Washington-Lee. Special buses enabled a greater number of students to attend the historic game than ever before. W-L's victory at the game gave them the title of Metropolitan Champions. The team journeyed to Glens Falls, New York, on the strength of the district championship, where they took part in another basketball tournament. Bob Phillips, a Junior at W-L was the highest scorer on the '42 team at the Star Tournament. He was also recognized as the highest scorer among the Metropolitan Area high scorers. Bob's excellent showing earned for him the outstanding player's trophy.

The cheering received by the captain at the hands of the bus load and carloads of W-L ites as he entered the A&W with the championship trophy expressed better than words could the feeling of the students for the 1942 basketball team.

The list of the games played follows:

The Monogram Club was organized in 1933 under the sponsorship of Miss Clara Wheeler. Its members are the girls who have met the necessary requirements which are based upon athletics, citizenship, scholarship, leadership, sportsmanship, and health. The meetings are held once a month, sometimes after school, and other times at the home of one of the members. The club's main activity is selling candy and pop-corn at football and basketball games.

Strike

"Health is the vital principle of bliss, and exercise, of health."

The W-L Bowling Leagues were organized in 1941. Since that time bowling has become one of the most popular school activities. The clubs, under the sponsorship of Miss Angle and Miss Ballance, are composed of girls from the ninth through the twelfth grades. The girls bowl once a week at the Clarendon Bowling Alleys.

After High School What?

Going to College?

Secretarial Training means better class notes and term papers, therefore better grades.

You save the cost of having stenographic work done for you. Do such work for others and earn extra money.

Going to Work?

Secretarial Training means a better job and a better chance of promotion. But be sure it is good training.

You also have a much better chance of staying employed when the poorly trained people are being dropped in thousands "after the duration."

Entering the Service?

Secretarial Training means a Specialist rating, a better income and more pleasant work.

There are not enough men to do both the fighting and the office work. Thousands of girls will be required for duty with the Services at home and abroad.

Doing Volunteer Work?

The Red Cross, Civilian Defense—all along the home front trained volunteer workers are needed, full or part time.

With Secretarial Training you will not feel helpless when you offer your services—you have been trained to do a valuable, skilled job.

TRAIN AT A. I. S.

Arlington Institute School for Secretaries offers you Secretarial Training:

At Lower Cost

The tuition rate is reasonable and the small classes allow more individual attention, you finish the training in fewer weeks.

With More Comfort

Within walking distance of many homes. Less bus fare or tire wear. Light, comfortable classrooms, electric fans, venetian blinds, cross ventilation.

Of High Quality

High standards for entrance and graduation. Ample modern equipment. College trained faculty with commercial experience. Every graduate placed in a permanent job.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I would like to thank you for the honor and privilege of being president of such a great class. I value sincerely the friendships and experiences that the position has given me.

We have had a wonderful time, and now more than ever appreciate the guiding efforts and enduring patience of our sponsors and faculty. With disregard to modesty and without fear of refutation, we can say that our class is undoubtedly one of the most successful ever to graduate from W-L.

I am confident that, as we enter into a more mature phase of life, our high school days will only have been the preliminary to an even more successful life. We must not only remember our carefree days but also think of the more serious times ahead.

The Class of '42 joins me in wishing the Juniors and the future classes of W-L success and experiences similar to ours.

—CLAUDE GARFIELD

MEMORIES

We look upon our school with pride
And think of days that have passed;
Not only days of fun and joy,
But days of working fast;
The times we hurried on our way
To keep from being late—
Because we stayed in bed
'Till it was after eight.

We remember all the tests we had—
Our books were always closed;
The many, many laughs we had
When often others dozed;
The grades which sometimes made us
proud,
And sometimes made us worry;
The times we stayed in after school
When we were in a hurry.

We made remarks we knew we shouldn't,
Which made the teacher mad,
Then dreaded to get reports because
Our conduct grade was bad.
We remember, too, the crowded halls,
And the traffic—just one way;
The longful waiting for the bell
That rang at the close of day.

This is not all the memories;
For it is just a start;
And we shall think of more than this
When we are far apart.
So now we'll say so-long;
We will not say good-bye;
We know we cannot stay away
From good old W-L High.

We're proud to say that we are one
Who really did get through;
It makes us prouder yet to say
We're the class of forty-two.
Three cheers for Washington-Lee;
It's worth it—no denying;
Still more cheers for the green and white
And forever keep 'em flying!

—FRANCES ISAACS.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT?

Below is a space for another picture of the most important person in the 1942 BLUE AND GRAY—YOU. Perhaps you don't think the ones in the annual look like you, or maybe you can at least find a better one. For you Seniors who feel that the staff has not done justice to your personality there is also a place for another "personal" as the write-ups about the Seniors were affectionately (?) called. Make it good!

IN MEMORIAM

"Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me."

The Reverend Henry Justus Miller was loved by the W-L student body. When the students learned of his death on April 16, 1942, their comments showed that they felt they had lost a personal friend. Mr. Miller had touched the hearts of the mid-year graduates when he delivered their baccalaureate sermon in January, and had always been a welcome speaker at the chapel assemblies. The simplicity of his approach to the problems of high school students made his messages intelligible to even the least of his hearers.

McNALLY TO SENIORS OF '42

Our school has seen many classes,
Some bad, some good———
And would be like the Class of '42
If they could———
Its members are many,
Its flaws are few———
Pride of the School
Is the Class of '42.
Scholarship, leadership, athletics,
Whatever befall,
Attendance, contributions———
It excels in all . . .
Now has come Graduation Day——
The Seniors are clad in gray,
The teachers one to the others say,
"When will another Class come through Like the Class of '42?" . . .

—JIM McNALLY.

IS 13 LUCKY FOR THE CLASS OF '42?

There were 13 on the board of officers
(Homeroom Presidents and Officers).
We planned the second Senior Party on the 13th of March and on Friday we had a blackout.
There were 13 in the Senior Play Cast
There were 13 in the Cadet Show Cast.
313 caps and gowns were ordered.

THE BELL HAS SOUNDED

That ringing bell has meant much to me
In the years I've spent with you,
But now at last it means no more
For my schooling days are through.

For four long days I labored,
Looking forward to this day;
But to me, it has come all too soon
For now I wish to stay.

The teachers gathered here tonight,
Have treated me just swell,
But in a distance I can hear,
That last dismissing bell.

From day to day it rang for me,
But now I must leave.
For my schooling days are over,
And knowledge will not deceive.

But after I leave this hall tonight
And into this world depart,
The spirit I obtained at W and I
Will always remain in my heart.

It has taught me to be upright
And meet what may appear,
To be trustworthy and straight-forward,
Without a thought of fear.

So it is unto thee, I bid adieu
And with a mournful tone proclaim,
That I will do my best
To uphold thy loving name.

My heart beats slow and my blood runs still
As I know I'll soon depart,
For my youth of life is over
And as a grown-up I must start.

—JAMES MAHON.

FINANCIAL REPORT
(AS SOME STUDENTS THINK IT IS)
1942 BLUE AND GRAY BUSINESS MANAGER

To be perfectly frank I don't really know where the money goes, but I do know that our incomes exceed our outgoes (much to our surprise and joy). Perhaps the Editor will get a college education after all. I will give an alphabetical, chronological, and geographical list of our outgoes and incomes.

OUTGOES

1. Printing and engraving	$1,000.00
2. Photography (We guarantee to get a good picture after 5 or 6 attempts)	400.00
3. Headache powders for Editor and me	25.00
4. Gas burned selling ads (before tire rationing)	100.00
5. Parties for the entire staff	500.00
6. New suit for the Business Manager (The first time I've paid more than $10)	35.00
7. Lolly-pops to get teachers to pose for their pictures	50.00
8. A new Easter outfit for the Editor—Your guess is as good as mine	—
9. Stationery and postage for business (sometimes) letters	50.00
10. For the Public Address system, with much reluctance	1.00
11. Handkerchief for our sponsor	.10
12. Telephone calls	45.45
Total	$2,205.50
	+ Note 8

INCOMES

1. Gifts from our many (?) good (?) friends	$.25
2. Donation from the school	.10
3. Advertising	1,000.00
4. Blackmail (Pay us or be exposed)	850.00
5. BLUE AND GRAY sales	1,800.00
6. Payments from certain of the fairer (?) sex to place the word "beauty" by their pictures	400.00
7. "Hush money" from the Principal to keep us from publishing a picture of his fancy bike riding	200.00
8. Passing bad checks	2,000.00
9. Received from local bank for giving it some business	250.00
10. Tremendous support of the Senior Class which we heartily appreciate	1.00
Total	$6,501.35

Incomes	$6,501.35
Outgoes	2,205.50
Profit	$4,295.85

Gee! After glancing at that last figure, I think maybe I'll get to college, too.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We, the 1942 BLUE AND GRAY staff, wish to extend our most sincere appreciation to all those who have helped us in any way, but especially to the following for their unfailing assistance and cheerful cooperation:

To our Faculty Advisers, Miss Sally Loving, Mr. James H. Webb, and Miss Mary Moore Aldhizer,
To Mr. J. O. Griffin of the Brown-Morrison Company,
To Mr. Leonard Brown and Mr. McIntyre of the Merin Baliban Studios, and To the former Senior Class Presidents and BLUE AND GRAY Editors.
